

I need help.
Who do I call?

- Call the ISD (517) 437-0990
- Expect a phone call within 24 hours from your school district's PAC representative

Become knowledgeable about your options and help that is available to you! All meetings are open to the public.

PAC members are accessible to local parents for support and information. Some of the duties of the Parent Advisory Committee members are:

- to act as liaisons between parents, local school districts, and the Hillsdale County ISD
- to provide support and information to parents that have a student(s) with a disability
- to be available for community functions to support awareness of students with disabilities
- to provide feedback on the HCISD Special Education Plan
- to support the communication network between the Parent Advisory Committee and all parents/guardians of students with disabilities within the Hillsdale County Intermediate School District

Who are we?

The Special Education Parent Advisory Committee is a committee promoting a partnership between families and educators working with students with a disability impacting their learning. This is done by aiding in communication, awareness, and collaboration between parents, community, local school districts, and the intermediate school district. Our goal is for every child in special education to reach their full potential!

What can we do for you?

The Special Education Parent Advisory Committee can help by serving as a support between you and the school to best improve your child's quality of education. We can provide a proactive support system, making you aware of programs and agencies available, including experts with special education law and parental rights, to name a few.

Why we do what we do?

The Special Education Parent Advisory Committee (PAC) is a group of parents with children with special needs in one or more areas receiving services from or in coordination with the Hillsdale County School Districts.

Each member of the group has been where you are. We understand your frustration, fear, and not knowing where to turn. From experience, we understand the process and we can point you in the right direction. We are...
